

Map of Nubia

In Modern day Africa, Nubia would be a five-hundred mile long stretch of land along the Nile River that is one-third in modern day Egypt and two-thirds in modern day Sudan. The kingdom of Ancient Nubia began a bit before the first cataract along the Nile River and extended past the sixth cataract to Khartoum.